✉ marina.fernandez-reino@compas.ox.ac.uk

Experienced researcher and data analyst with expertise in statistical methods of data analysis and experimental methods (survey and field experiments). I have published academic articles in peer-reviewed journals as well as reports and briefings on migrants' integration outcomes in the UK, which have had a notable political and media impact. I have been PI or Co-I in multiple national and international research projects. Starting in 2023, I will be the leader of two work packages in the EqualStrength project, funded by the Horizon Europe Framework Programme
